Section F: Comprehension (8 marks)

Read the passage carefully.

One chilly morning, a man went into the forest to gather wood for a fire. His thoughtful wife had packed some delicious rice cakes for his lunch.

After a long morning of wood chopping, the tired man sat down to enjoy the rice cakes. Suddenly, two cakes rolled out of his lunch box and disappeared into a hole in the ground. The man raced to get them, but he stopped suddenly when he heard music coming from the hole.

*Rolling, rolling, rice cakes,
Very, very nice cakes!*

"What a beautiful song," thought the man as he peered into the hole. He leaned over so far that he lost his balance and fell to the bottom of the hole. When he looked up, he saw hundreds of little mice.

"Thank you for the delicious rice cakes," said one mouse gratefully. "Now please accept this," it said as it handed the man a small bag of rice.

While the mice rolled the man out of the hole, they sang:

*Rolling, rolling, rice man,
Very, very nice man!*

When the man finally reached the top, he raced home. His wife thought the bag of rice was very small. However, after she poured the rice into a bowl, the bag was still full. To everyone's surprise, the man and his wife had enough rice to last the rest of their lives, all because of some thankful little mice.
