One hot summer day, a crow was feeling very thirsty. He flew from one place to the next in search of water but he could not find it anywhere. He was very upset and disappointed.

However, the crow did not give up. After searching for a long time, he finally saw a jug of water. He flew down to the jug immediately. He put his beak into the jug but the water was not within his reach. He even tried to overturn the jug. Unfortunately, the jug was too heavy to be moved.

When the crow was about to fly away in despair, he noticed some pebbles lying near the jug. He thought of a plan. He flew to the pebbles, picked them up one by one and dropped them into the jug.

Slowly, the level of the water rose and came up to the top of the jug. The crow was overjoyed to see this. He dipped his beak into the jug, quenched his thirst and flew away contentedly.

25. The crow was thirsty but could not find any water. He decided to _____.

- (1) look for pebbles
- (2) sit down and rest
- (3) give up and fly away
- (4) continue searching for it
