Section E

Comprehension MCQ (5 x 2 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee married in Australia, and decided to live in New Zealand. They brought their passion of sailboat racing with them to the mountains.

"I've been racing sailboats since I was eight years old," Mr. Lee said. "Even when I went to junior camp, it was a sailing camp. I sailed when I was in college."

Mrs. Lee started sailing in Singapore in 1987. "I went out just for the fun of sailing," she said. "There were always sailboats there. A gentleman by the name of Dan taught me about sailing. He was short, being a dwarf."

The Lees met through Mr. Lee's roommate, Dave. He was graduating from college and invited Mrs. Lee down to watch a sailing competition. She went, met Mr. Lee, and found out they both loved sailing.

There are events that happen in sailboat racing that cannot be controlled by humans. The worst thing that can happen to them while sailing is to be doing really well, being far out in front, and then the wind completely dies. The boats behind sail past and beat them.

Sailing is both fun and challenging for the Lees. Mrs. Lee gave up sailing for two years when she was in the University, and Mr. Lee sailed with other people who loved sailing. Living in the mountains doesn't stop them from sailing.

Mr. Lee said, "It is just about one hour and 45 minutes to get to Lake Tahoe to spend an entire weekend sailing."

Choose the correct answer and write its number (1, 2, 3 or 4) in the brackets.

Section F
Comprehension (5 x 2 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.
Write your answers in complete sentences.

Under a big straw hat was a cheerful and suntanned face. He was the old fisherman, Ah Teng.

Ah Teng squatted on the bench and munched on a big slice of stale bread. When he had finished, he drank his cup of coffee to the last drop. There was no clock on the wall but he knew what the time was. He also knew that he must hurry if he wanted to reach his favourite fishing spot before the others did. He picked up the old basket in which he had neatly arranged his fishing lines, a bottle of water and two slices of bread.

He opened the door and stepped outside. By the faint light of dawn, he could see the shore and the outline of his boat riding on the gentle waves. It always made him feel good and happy to look at his boat. It was old but strong. It had been his only companion for twenty-five years and would always be the only one.

Hanging below his tiny window was his tin of worms which he had dug from the shore the evening before when the tide was down. He put the tin into his basket and made his way down the path to his boat. He did not lock the door. He never had to.

Answer the following questions. Write your answers in complete sentences.

34. What was Ah Teng's occupation?

35. Why was Ah Teng in a hurry?

36. Which 3-word phrase in paragraph 2 tells you that Ah Teng drank up all his coffee?

37. What time of day was it when Ah Teng left his house?

38. In the passage, what does the word 'companion' refer to?
