One day, Fox played a trick on Stork. Stork was very displeased at being
(29) (30)
trick, but she was a calm creature and saw no good in flying into a raige.

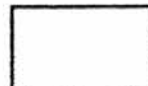

Instead, she invited Fox to dine with her. Fox arrived promptly and Stork served
(31) (32)
the food on a tall jar a narrow neck. Stork could easily get at the food with her long bill, but all Fox could do was to lick the outside of the jar and snif at the delicious aroma. Fox lost his temper and Stork told him to kulm down. They decided to make peace and be friends again.

(33)

(34)

Section F: Comprehension 1 (8 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

It was Jeffrey's first visit to the wet market with his mother. It was very crowded. There were men, women, old ladies and even babies in strollers. The noise was deafening and a mixture of languages and dialects could be heard.

Jeffrey went with his mother to the butcher. He did not understand what they were saying. However, when he saw the pleased look on his mother's face, he knew she had managed to get a lower price for the meat. Next, they bought some vegetables. Jeffrey's mother spoke in another dialect to the greengrocer.

He was amazed that his mother was able to speak more than one dialect. Jeffrey was even more surprised when his mother spoke in fluent Malay to a lady who was selling some spices.

It was an eye-opening experience for Jeffrey as he walked around the market. Old ladies displayed amazing strength as they pushed their grandchildren in their strollers while holding three to four bags of food.

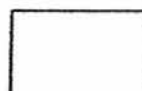

Finally, after buying some fruit, Jeffrey and his mother left the market. Jeffrey enjoyed helping his mother select the freshest fruit. Although the wet market was hot and he did not like the smell of the raw food, he did not mind going to there again. It had been an enriching experience.

Section G: Comprehension 2 (8 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

My father loves rearing fish. Although we live in a four-room HDB flat, he has been clever enough to transform our living room into a mini aquarium filled with lots of colourful and attractive fish. This has certainly brightened up our living room. The guests to our home will definitely not miss it. My father has some goldfish. The lionhead goldfish is one of his favourites.

Despite working as a full-time police officer and looking after us, my father still manages to find time to take care of his fish. His love for fish started when he was a child. He used to fish and play around his father's pond. They lived in a big bungalow then. My grandfather taught him the skills of fishing. My mother is also very supportive of his hobby. She often buys him books on fish and helps to feed the fish every evening. When she sees that the fish tanks are dirty, she will help clean them.

10

"Seeing the young fish grow into adult fish is like watching your children grow up and that gives me lots of satisfaction," my father said, beaming proudly at his mini aquarium. As for me, I enjoy watching my father tend to his fish and helping him select more fish from the pet shop!

15

For Questions 40 and 41, write 1, 2, 3 or 4 in the bracket.

40. Keeping fish in the living room makes the _____ [1 mark]

- (1) guests miss their home
- (2) author more interested in fish
