Section F – Comprehension Open-Ended (10 x 2) marks
Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

Few people ever took notice of Mr Jimmy Tan whenever he entered a room. He was a shy, quiet and simple man who preferred to keep to himself in public. However, people who had met him would realise that he is actually a very remarkable person who had achieved many spectacular results in scientific experiments.

On the other hand, Mr Thomas Kim, a fellow scientist, was a man everyone 5 would notice on the streets. He wore bright outfits with huge flower prints, spoke with a booming voice, and his laughter could be heard from all corners of a room. In addition to the differences in their characters, Mr Kim and Mr Tan were also great rivals at work in the Institute of Future Science.

On Christmas Eve, everyone left work early to celebrate the special occasion, 10 except for Mr Tan and Mr Kim. They were in their laboratory analysing the results of their latest experiments. Mr Tan realized that something special was taking place in his experiment - the bacteria he had cultured were growing extremely quickly under high pressure and at a very low temperature. After noting down the findings in his notebook, he left the room to prepare for another round of tests. Shortly after, Mr Kim entered. 15

"Hey Jimmy," Mr Kim called out, "do you have an extra copy of the laboratory booking form?"

There was no reply, so Mr Kim ruffled through Mr Tan's things. He soon found Mr Tan's notebook and was horrified to see that Mr Tan had managed to make one of the most important discoveries in modern science. 20

"Oh no, this cannot be! He will become very famous if he publishes this finding. Soon, he may even be promoted to be Head of Research and I will have to work under him! I cannot let this happen," Mr Kim thought to himself.

Mr Kim ran to the deep-freeze cabinet where the Petri dish containing the bacteria was kept. He removed the dish, slotted them into his pocket, and returned to 25 his own laboratory.

Mr Tan came back an hour later to find his notebook and the Petri dish missing. He knew that Mr Kim had taken them and went to Mr Kim's laboratory to confront him. When Mr Tan opened the door to Mr Kim's laboratory, he found Mr Kim lying on the floor motionless. His face was pale and his skin had turned black. The deadly bacteria 30 had been handled improperly and had infected Mr Kim. Mr Tan shook his head and left.

For each question from 36 to 45, write your answer in the space provided. All answers must be in complete sentences.

36. What was Mr Tan's occupation?

37. Which sentence tells you why Mr Kim was someone who was easily recognised by people?

38. Where did Mr Tan and Mr Kim work?

39. Why did Mr Tan and Mr Kim not get along?

40. What did Mr Tan discover in the experiment he conducted on Christmas Eve?

41. Why did Mr Kim enter Mr Tan's laboratory?

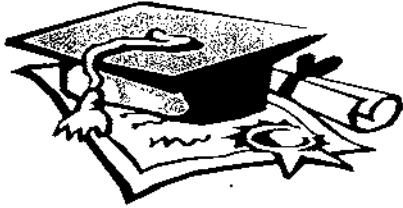

42. Which word in the passage has the same meaning as "to mess up the order"?

43. What does the word "them" in line 22 refer to?

44. Why did Mr Kim go to the deep-freeze cabinet in Mr Tan's laboratory?

45. What had caused Mr Kim to be infected by the bacteria?
