One day, a lion was sleeping in his den. Then a naughty little mouse ran up onto his back and danced on his head.

"How dare you wake me up! I shall eat you up!" roared the lion.

"Please let me go! I promise to save your life one day," said the terrified mouse.

"How can you save my life?" asked the lion.

He laughed at the mouse but decided to let the mouse go free.

A few days later, the lion was caught in a hunter's trap. He let out a roar of anger and every animal in the jungle heard it, including the mouse.

The mouse ran towards the lion's roar. As soon as he found the trapped lion, he began nibbling through the ropes with his sharp little teeth. A hole was created in the trap and very soon the lion was free.

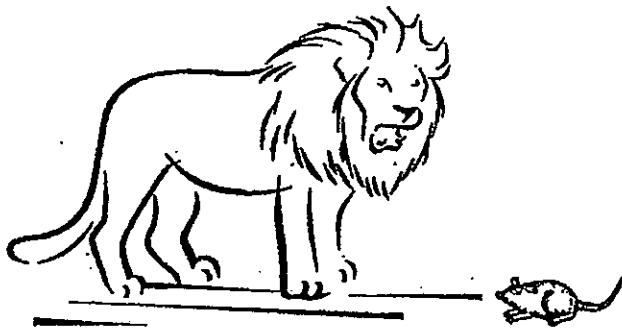

"I did not believe that you could save my life, little mouse. Thank you," said the lion.

The lion realised that even the weak and small may be of help to those much stronger and bigger than themselves.

15. What was the lion doing before the little mouse danced on his head?
